

CRYOSHELL – "CRYOSHELL"

Releasing June 7th 2010 on VME/Cryoshell I/S, Catalognr. 01503

Since the launch of CRYOSHELL, there have been over 1 million views of videos using Creeping in My Soul on Youtube.com.

The sound behind the successful series BIONICLE from LEGO, is now going their own ways in releasing their self titled debut album in June this year.

ABOUT THE BAND

Christine Lorentzen has been singing and working with music the greater part of her life. Prior to CRYOSHELL she has recorded in Los Angeles, done model work and in 2006 she starred in the Danish version of Star Search and later that year she hosted the Danish version of the world wide successful tv-concept Strictly Come Dancing. Since then, CRYOSHELL has been Lore's dedication, and with her powerful and intense voice she draws the audience into the CRYOSHELL universe.

The classically educated Mikkel Maltha brings piano and symphonic flavors to the mix with passion, and he creates the dense harmonies that define a base for the epic universe in which CRYOSHELL exists. Mikkel has composed music for several films including Lars von Trier's Boss of it All, Råzone (Life Hits) and the Oscar® nominated At Night.

Rock and metal sounds inevitably emerge when Kasper Søderlund picks up his guitar. He is conservatory educated and Kasper has worked and played with several famous artists like Caroline Henderson, Maryam Mursal, Martin Hall and Clara Thomas. He has been touring all of Europe, the US and Canada, and he has composed music for feature films and TV commercials on the side. Playing guitar as the main instrument of many, Kasper has a vast experience and a fierce sound.

THE SOUND

CRYOSHELL aims to create a hard-edged and modern yet fragile and classical mood. Built on experience, talent and a love for rock, pop and metal, the CRYOSHELL sound can be described as epic symphonic rock with references to bands such as Evanescence and Linkin Park. The music is built upon symphonic keyboard harmonies, heavy insisting guitar riffs and powerful vocals spanning from the quiet and intense to forceful primal screams. The larger-than-life themes such as destiny and identity are spelled out but kept fresh by raw guitars and modern sound design.

FACTS

Cryoshell was formed in 2006 to create the signature tune of the LEGO toy line BIONICLE. Of all the toy lines produced by LEGO, BIONICLE is the most successful and the only LEGO produced intellectual property.

CRYOSHELL's first single, Creeping in My Soul immediately became one of the most downloaded files at the LEGO web site - a site with 15 million visitors every month. The tune has now received a new music video shot by the renowned photographer Peter Hjorth (known from amongst others Anticrist and Manderlay).

Since the launch there have been over 1 million views of videos using Creeping in My Soul on Youtube.com.

Also, the tune has been used by fans to create somewhat 500+ alternative music videos on Youtube.com.

The Danish producer, Jacob Hansen (producing for amongst others The Storm, Volbeat and Hatesphere) has produced the first full album consisting of 10 songs releasing in June 2010.
